Message from Sheriff Tom Jones

I am very excited for the release of our 2014 Grant County Sheriff's Office Annual Report. Since I took office in 2011, I have made it a priority to keep our citizens informed about what we do as an agency and how hard our folks work for them. It is also a way to stay transparent to our community members, whether our news is good or bad.

2014 was an exciting year as we reached one of our goals that I set out early. We were able to become an accredited law enforcement agency through the Washington Association of Sheriffs and Police Chiefs (WASPC). The purpose of accreditation is to professionalize the law enforcement profession by providing a review process for agencies to be certified as operating under industry best practices and standards. Accreditation helps increase public confidence in the agency, increase credibility, decrease susceptibility to litigation and costly civil court settlements, and provide state and local recognition of professional confidence.

Another great accomplishment in 2014 was the development of our five year strategic plan. In this plan, our agency set four goals to work toward and to be reviewed on an annual basis. I wanted to make sure we were being progressive and steering the agency in the direction as outlined in the strategic plan.

Our four goals are:

1. To enhance the quality of public safety,
2. Improve communication and distribution of information throughout the Grant County Sheriff's Office,
3. Develop effective relationships with other local, state and Federal criminal justice agencies, and
4. Achieve and preserve accreditation standards through the Washington Association of Sheriffs and Police Chiefs (WASPC).

We have shown that we have taken substantial steps to ensure that we are in line with our strategic plan and will continue to review and update as we reach our goals.

I also would like to pass on a huge thank you to our volunteer staff. We have a tremendous group of individuals that really know the meaning of public service and volunteering. They truly do make the difference in the Grant County Sheriff's Office and the way we are able to reach out to the communities.

We have also continued to be on the forefront in the way that we communicate with the citizens of this great county. Through our media outlets, social media, iPhone and Android applications and our progressive website, we are able to get current information to the public in very short order. We have received great feedback from the community on how pleased they are for the sharing of information.

I will continue our series of annual town hall meetings throughout the county to make sure we are doing all we can to give the citizens the opportunity to interact with our office and share their comments, concerns and ideas. These venues have truly been a benefit to our office in the way we conduct business.

I am blessed to be able to serve the citizens of Grant County for another four years. The first four years have been an amazing journey and I believe that we have taken the Sheriff's Office in a new and more progressive direction. I can assure you that I will continue to work hard for you so you are safe in your homes, communities and the county. With the great men and women of the Sheriff's Office and their commitment to public safety, I believe this great county is in good hands.

Volunteer Public Information Officers

Two Public Information Officers (PIOs) connect the Sheriff's Office and citizens through the publicizing of newsworthy events, major crimes and emergency messages to guide citizens on personal protection. PIOs report directly to the Sheriff and respond to major incidents to serve as liaison to the news media and the public. PIOs also maintain the Sheriff's website, manage the Nixle® mass notification system, communicate with citizens via the GCSO Facebook and Twitter social media accounts, and produce publications such as wanted posters for distribution to the public.

In 2014, our PIOs:

- Responded to and were on-scene at 13 major incidents;
- Prepared and issued 195 formal news releases;
- Responded to assist Okanogan County at the Carlton Complex Fire near Omak;
- Assisted Ephrata Police and Moses Lake Police at three high-profile incidents;
- Assisted Grant County Fire District 13 on a wildland fire near Rimrock Meadows;
- Assisted Grant County Fire District 10 on a wildland fire near Beverly;
- Worked closely with local, regional, state and federal law enforcement agencies;
- Worked with local, regional, and national news agencies;
- Attended several media relations trainings, and
- Conducted multiple television, radio, print and internet news interviews.

Registered Sex Offender Address and Residency Verification Program

This unit is responsible for tracking, locating, verifying and recording 279 offenders who live within Grant County.

Deputy Sheriff Keith Edie is assigned to track and monitor the whereabouts of registered sex offenders in Grant County. Deputy Edie kept tabs on:

Registered Sex Offenders in Grant County	2013	2014
Level 1 Sex Offenders (categorized as least likely to reoffend)	240	236
Level 2 Sex Offenders (categorized as less likely to reoffend)	35	35
Level 3 Sex Offenders (categorized as likely to reoffend)	10	8
TOTAL	285	279

In 2014, Deputy Edie made 548 face-to-face verifications with registered sex offenders living in Grant County.

Most offenders live in the Moses Lake area. Citizens can access information on where sex offenders live in Grant County by visiting the Offender Watch website, www.sheriffalerts.com/wa/grant.

RCW 9A.44.135 lays out the process and requires the Chief Law Enforcement officer of the County to locate and verify the residency of a registered sex offender within their jurisdiction. This also includes kidnapping offenders if required to register.

These requirements are codified in RCW 36.28A and include that address verifications are based on the following:

- Level 1 offenders: every 12 months;
- Level 2 offenders: every 6 months; and
- Level 3 offenders: every 3 months.

Search and Rescue

Working under the guidance and supervision of the Sheriff's Office, our Search and Rescue Unit dedicated over 100 hours of service to the citizens of Grant County in 2014. In doing so they recovered multiple abandoned vehicles from canals and several searches for missing persons. SAR has increased their number of volunteer pilots for air searches and is working toward growing their aircraft capabilities. The aircraft have been instrumental in many occasions in the recent past.

The Search and Rescue Unit is supervised by a full-time deputy with the Sheriff's Office and consists of 8 volunteers from the community.

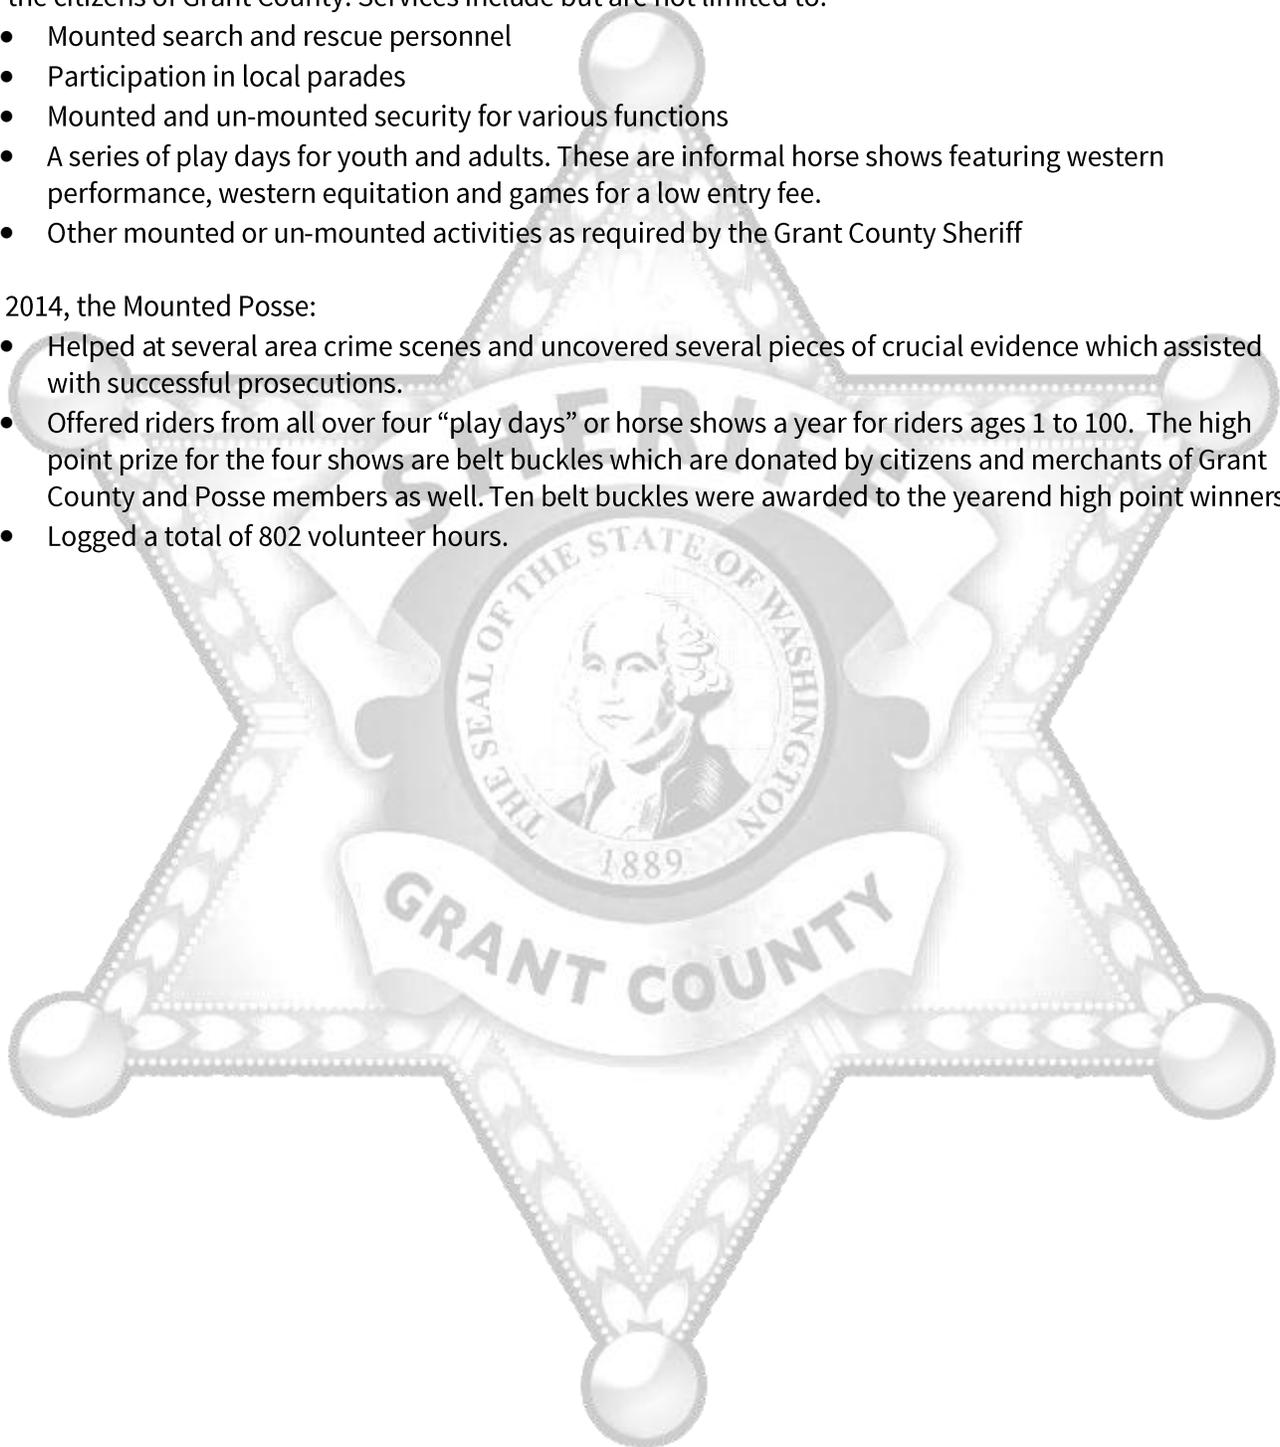

Mounted Posse

The Grant County Sheriff's Mounted Posse is a group of volunteers who provide a number of excellent services to the citizens of Grant County. Services include but are not limited to:

- Mounted search and rescue personnel
- Participation in local parades
- Mounted and un-mounted security for various functions
- A series of play days for youth and adults. These are informal horse shows featuring western performance, western equitation and games for a low entry fee.
- Other mounted or un-mounted activities as required by the Grant County Sheriff

In 2014, the Mounted Posse:

- Helped at several area crime scenes and uncovered several pieces of crucial evidence which assisted with successful prosecutions.
- Offered riders from all over four "play days" or horse shows a year for riders ages 1 to 100. The high point prize for the four shows are belt buckles which are donated by citizens and merchants of Grant County and Posse members as well. Ten belt buckles were awarded to the yearend high point winners.
- Logged a total of 802 volunteer hours.

Marine Unit

Grant County Marine Unit Deputies are active all year patrolling the waters of Grant County. The Marine Unit routinely responds to boaters and persons in distress. The Marine Deputies are specially trained in the following areas:

- Boat Handling
- Marine Law Enforcement and Education
- Basic/Advanced Boat Collision Investigation
- Instructors in Boating Safety
- Personal Watercraft Swift Water Rescue

The experience and training of the Marine Unit provides a valuable 24 hour service to the citizens and those that visit the waters of Grant County.

The Marine Unit patrols the waters of Grant County to promote boating safety and to enforce Grant County Ordinance (6.08) and Washington State Boating Laws RCW 79A.60.

Gang Unit

The Sheriff's Gang Unit was formalized in February to handle gang-related crimes throughout Grant County, focusing on violent crime in the Larson Community. The Gang Unit includes Detectives, Patrol Deputies and Corrections Deputies who aggressively patrol the communities of Grant County focusing on street level crimes and violent crimes that may be gang related. The Gang Unit is a part-time function due to the inability to financially staff a full-time unit. The Gang Unit currently organizes specific missions throughout the year to address criminal activity.

Statistics on gang-related crime has been collected for several years in Grant County. Below is a five-year snapshot:

School Resource Officer

- Deputy Joe Harris works in the Wahluke School District campuses in Mattawa, ensuring schools are safe and serving as a direct line of communication between students, teachers, parents and administrators.
- Deputy Harris taught four fourth grade classes (about 120 students) this year in his GREAT (Gang Resistance Education and Training) program.
- He provides law enforcement presence for extracurricular activities such as football games, basketball games and graduation.
- He is a member of the state Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction's gang task force, assisting in gang, cyberbullying and computer safety policies for schools throughout the state of Washington.

Work Release Center

In 1999 the Work Release Center opened to provide housing for minimum to medium security post-sentence inmates, and to allow local courts the option of work release as a sentencing alternative. The Grant County Work Release Center is a 100 bed, medium security facility.

Inmate education is emphasized at the facility. Inmates who do not possess a high school diploma or Generalized Education Diploma (GED) are required to attend GED preparation classes held at the facility twice a week.

The facility also encourages inmates with diplomas to prepare for college and/or vocational courses by attending GED classes. For these inmates entry into the GED class is a little more difficult. Prior to being accepted into the class the inmate must verbalize in a 500 word essay on why they should be allowed in the course and what their future plans are. Upon review of the essay by the GED teacher and facility sergeant acceptance into the class is either granted or denied.

Inmate work programs are also emphasized at the facility. The following projects are examples of work programs supervised by staff:

- Work Crew: Inmates are utilized for permanently assigned and temporary details where inmate labor allows governmental or non-profit agencies to save or maximize tax payer dollars. Examples of temporary details are landscaping, weed abatement, painting, brush removal and moving of office furniture.

- Litter Crew: In a cooperative effort with the Department of Ecology and Grant County Public Works, inmates perform litter pick-up and clean-up of illegal dumpsites from public lands throughout Grant County. Grant funds in the amount of $30,000 to $32,000 annually help fund this program which has collected over 550,000 pounds of litter.

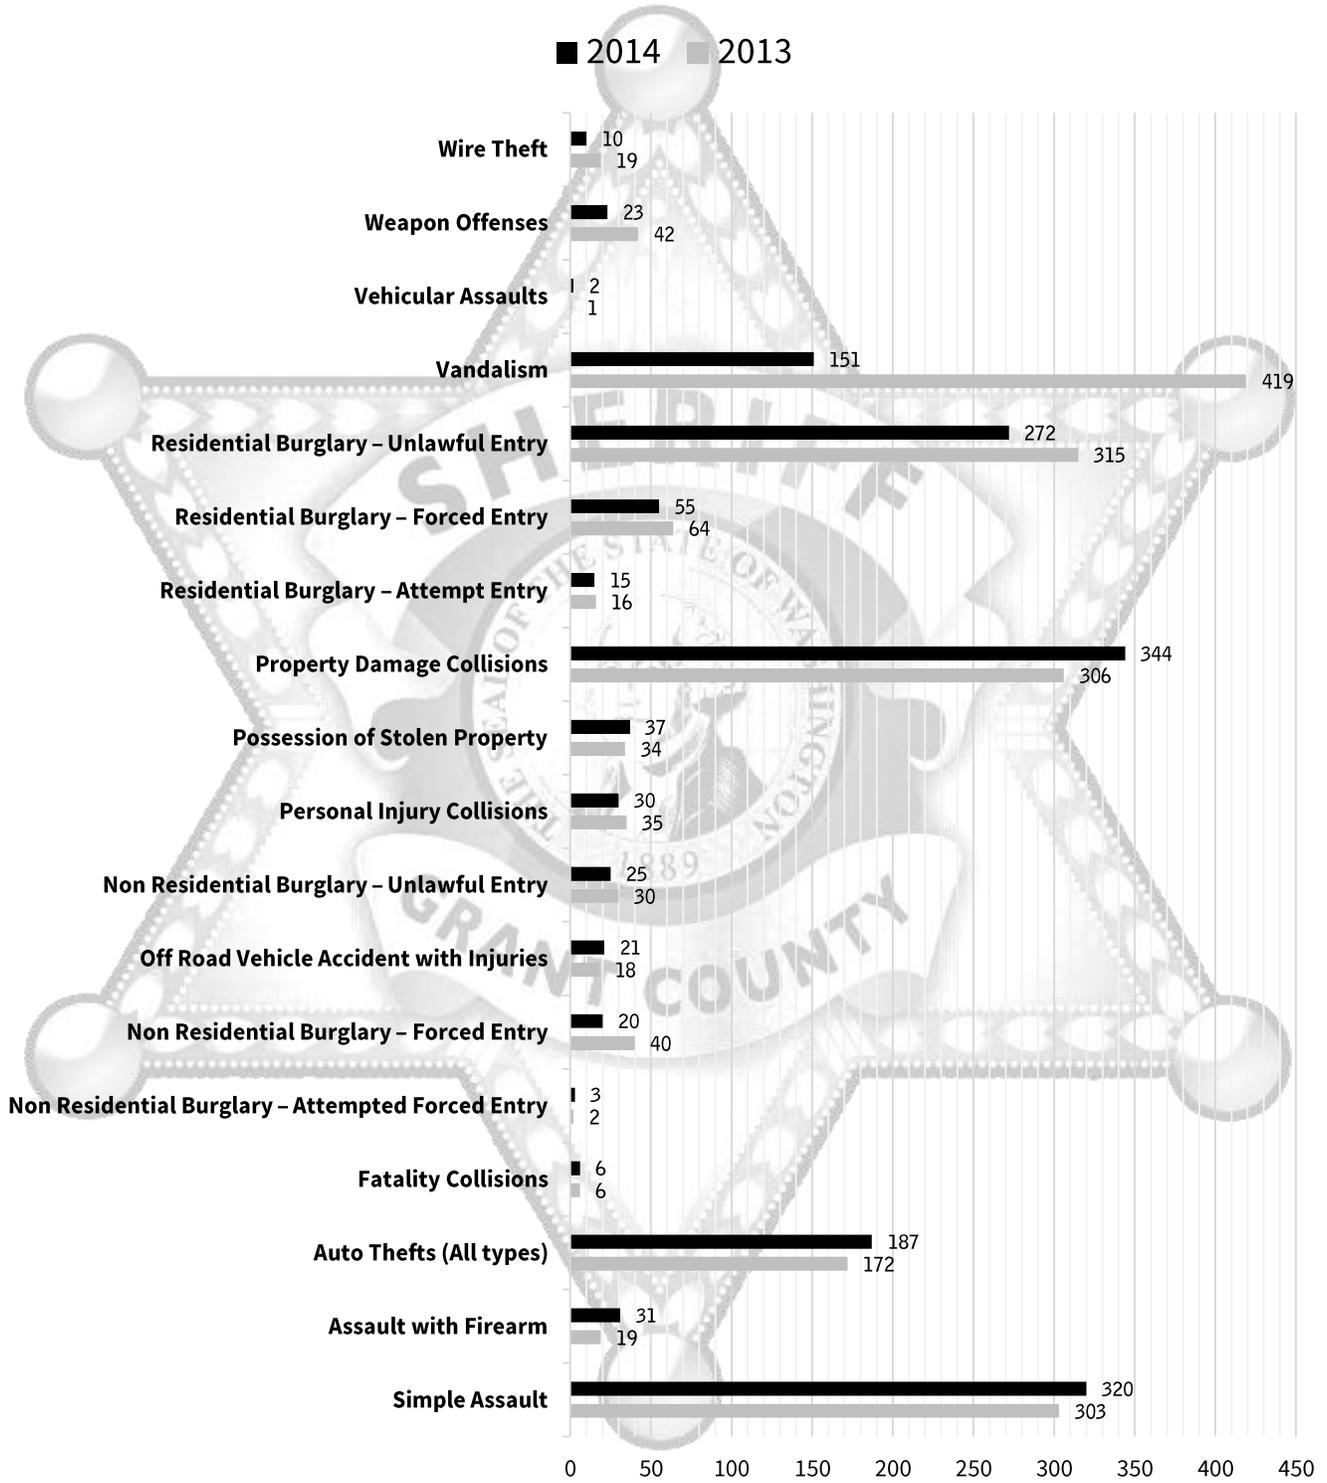

Permanent assignments are:

- State Parks: Pre and post season grounds clean-up and maintenance.
- Historical Museum: General labor for grounds maintenance, janitorial and construction projects.
- Port of Ephrata: General labor for grounds maintenance, janitorial and construction projects.
- Washington State Department of Fish and Wildlife: General labor for grounds maintenance, janitorial and construction projects.

Uniform Crime Reporting Statistics

The FBI's Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) Program has been the starting place for law enforcement executives, students of criminal justice, researchers, members of the media, and the public at large seeking information on crime in the nation. The program was conceived in 1929 by the International Association of Chiefs of Police to meet the need for reliable uniform crime statistics for the nation. In 1930, the FBI was tasked with collecting, publishing, and archiving those statistics.

To ensure these data are uniformly reported, the FBI provides contributing law enforcement agencies with a handbook that explains how to classify and score offenses and provides uniform crime offense definitions. Acknowledging that offense definitions may vary from state to state, the FBI cautions agencies to report offenses not according to local or state statutes but according to those guidelines provided in the handbook.

Crime statistics gathered by the Grant County Sheriff's Office are recorded based on criteria set forth by the UCR handbook, and ultimately submit the data to the FBI for inclusion in annual reports.

The Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) Program divides offenses into two groups, Part I and Part II crimes. Each month, participating law enforcement agencies submit information on the number of Part I offenses that become known to them; those offenses cleared by arrest or exceptional means; and the age, sex, and race of persons arrested for each of the offenses. Contributors provide only arrest data for Part II offenses.

The UCR Program collects data about Part I offenses in order to measure the level and scope of crime occurring throughout the nation. The program's founders chose these offenses because they are serious crimes, they occur with regularity in all areas of the country, and they are likely to be reported to police.

The Part I offenses are:

- Criminal homicide—a.) Murder and nonnegligent manslaughter: the willful (nonnegligent) killing of one human being by another. Deaths caused by negligence, attempts to kill, assaults to kill, suicides, and accidental deaths are excluded. The program classifies justifiable homicides separately and limits the definition to: (1) the killing of a felon by a law enforcement officer in the line of duty; or (2) the killing of a felon, during the commission of a felony, by a private citizen. b.) Manslaughter by negligence: the killing of another person through gross negligence. Deaths of persons due to their own negligence, accidental deaths not resulting from gross negligence, and traffic fatalities are not included in the category Manslaughter by Negligence.
- Forcible rape—The carnal knowledge of a female forcibly and against her will. Rapes by force and attempts or assaults to rape, regardless of the age of the victim, are included. Statutory offenses (no force used—victim under age of consent) are excluded.
- Robbery—The taking or attempting to take anything of value from the care, custody, or control of a person or persons by force or threat of force or violence and/or by putting the victim in fear.
- Aggravated assault—An unlawful attack by one person upon another for the purpose of inflicting severe or aggravated bodily injury. This type of assault usually is accompanied by the use of a weapon or by means likely to produce death or great bodily harm. Simple assaults are excluded.
- Burglary (breaking or entering)—The unlawful entry of a structure to commit a felony or a theft. Attempted forcible entry is included.
- Larceny-theft (except motor vehicle theft)—The unlawful taking, carrying, leading, or riding away of property from the possession or constructive possession of another. Examples are thefts of bicycles, motor vehicle parts and accessories, shoplifting, pocket-picking, or the stealing of any property or article that is not taken by force and violence or by fraud. Attempted larcenies are included. Embezzlement, confidence games, forgery, check fraud, etc., are excluded.

- Motor vehicle theft—The theft or attempted theft of a motor vehicle. A motor vehicle is self-propelled and runs on land surface and not on rails. Motorboats, construction equipment, airplanes, and farming equipment are specifically excluded from this category.
- Arson—Any willful or malicious burning or attempt to burn, with or without intent to defraud, a dwelling house, public building, motor vehicle or aircraft, personal property of another, etc.

The Part II offenses, for which only arrest data are collected, are:

- Other assaults (simple)—Assaults and attempted assaults where no weapon was used or no serious or aggravated injury resulted to the victim. Stalking, intimidation, coercion, and hazing are included.
- Forgery and counterfeiting—The altering, copying, or imitating of something, without authority or right, with the intent to deceive or defraud by passing the copy or thing altered or imitated as that which is original or genuine; or the selling, buying, or possession of an altered, copied, or imitated thing with the intent to deceive or defraud. Attempts are included.
- Fraud—The intentional perversion of the truth for the purpose of inducing another person or other entity in reliance upon it to part with something of value or to surrender a legal right. Fraudulent conversion and obtaining of money or property by false pretenses. Confidence games and bad checks, except forgeries and counterfeiting, are included.
- Embezzlement—The unlawful misappropriation or misapplication by an offender to his/her own use or purpose of money, property, or some other thing of value entrusted to his/her care, custody, or control.
- Stolen property: buying, receiving, possessing—Buying, receiving, possessing, selling, concealing, or transporting any property with the knowledge that it has been unlawfully taken, as by burglary, embezzlement, fraud, larceny, robbery, etc. Attempts are included.
- Vandalism—To willfully or maliciously destroy, injure, disfigure, or deface any public or private property, real or personal, without the consent of the owner or person having custody or control by cutting, tearing, breaking, marking, painting, drawing, covering with filth, or any other such means as may be specified by local law. Attempts are included.
- Weapons: carrying, possessing, etc.—The violation of laws or ordinances prohibiting the manufacture, sale, purchase, transportation, possession, concealment, or use of firearms, cutting instruments, explosives, incendiary devices, or other deadly weapons. Attempts are included.
- Prostitution and commercialized vice—The unlawful promotion of or participation in sexual activities for profit, including attempts. To solicit customers or transport persons for prostitution purposes; to own, manage, or operate a dwelling or other establishment for the purpose of providing a place where prostitution is performed; or to otherwise assist or promote prostitution.
- Sex offenses (except forcible rape, prostitution, and commercialized vice)—Offenses against chastity, common decency, morals, and the like. Incest, indecent exposure, and statutory rape are included. Attempts are included.
- Drug abuse violations—The violation of laws prohibiting the production, distribution, and/or use of certain controlled substances. The unlawful cultivation, manufacture, distribution, sale, purchase, use, possession, transportation, or importation of any controlled drug or narcotic substance. Arrests for violations of state and local laws, specifically those relating to the unlawful possession, sale, use, growing, manufacturing, and making of narcotic drugs. The following drug categories are specified: opium or cocaine and their derivatives (morphine, heroin, codeine); marijuana; synthetic narcotics—manufactured narcotics that can cause true addiction (demerol, methadone); and dangerous nonnarcotic drugs (barbiturates, benzedrine).
- Gambling—To unlawfully bet or wager money or something else of value; assist, promote, or operate a game of chance for money or some other stake; possess or transmit wagering information; manufacture, sell, purchase, possess, or transport gambling equipment, devices, or goods; or tamper with the outcome of a sporting event or contest to gain a gambling advantage.

- Offenses against the family and children—Unlawful nonviolent acts by a family member (or legal guardian) that threaten the physical, mental, or economic well-being or morals of another family member and that are not classifiable as other offenses, such as Assault or Sex Offenses. Attempts are included.
- Driving under the influence—Driving or operating a motor vehicle or common carrier while mentally or physically impaired as the result of consuming an alcoholic beverage or using a drug or narcotic.
- Liquor laws—The violation of state or local laws or ordinances prohibiting the manufacture, sale, purchase, transportation, possession, or use of alcoholic beverages, not including driving under the influence and drunkenness. Federal violations are excluded.
- Drunkenness—To drink alcoholic beverages to the extent that one's mental faculties and physical coordination are substantially impaired. Driving under the influence is excluded.
- Disorderly conduct—Any behavior that tends to disturb the public peace or decorum, scandalize the community, or shock the public sense of morality.
- Vagrancy—The violation of a court order, regulation, ordinance, or law requiring the withdrawal of persons from the streets or other specified areas; prohibiting persons from remaining in an area or place in an idle or aimless manner; or prohibiting persons from going from place to place without visible means of support.
- All other offenses—All violations of state or local laws not specifically identified as Part I or Part II offenses, except traffic violations.
- Suspicion—Arrested for no specific offense and released without formal charges being placed.
- Runaways (persons under age 18)—Limited to juveniles taken into protective custody under the provisions of local statutes.

Proper Use of UCR Statistics

UCR crime statistics are used in many ways and serve many purposes. They provide law enforcement with data for use in budget formulation, planning, resource allocation, assessment of police operations, etc., to help address the crime problem at various levels. Chambers of commerce and tourism agencies examine these data to see how they impact the particular geographic jurisdictions they represent. Criminal justice researchers study the nature, cause, and movement of crime over time. Legislators draft anti-crime measures using the research findings and recommendations of law enforcement administrators, planners, and public and private entities concerned with the problem of crime. The news media use the crime statistics provided by the UCR Program to inform the public about the state of crime.

There are some pitfalls, such as ranking. UCR data are sometimes used to compile rankings of individual jurisdictions and institutions of higher learning. These incomplete analyses have often created misleading perceptions which adversely affect geographic entities and their residents. For this reason, the FBI has a long-standing policy against ranking participating law enforcement agencies on the basis of crime data alone. Despite repeated warnings against these practices, some data users continue to challenge and misunderstand this position.

Data users should not rank locales because there are many factors that cause the nature and type of crime to vary from place to place. UCR statistics include only jurisdictional population figures along with reported crime, clearance, or arrest data. Rankings ignore the uniqueness of each locale. Some factors that are known to affect the volume and type of crime occurring from place to place are:

- Population density and degree of urbanization.
- Variations in composition of the population, particularly youth concentration.
- Stability of the population with respect to residents' mobility, commuting patterns, and transient factors. Economic conditions, including median income, poverty level, and job availability.
- Modes of transportation and highway systems.
- Cultural factors and educational, recreational, and religious characteristics.
- Family conditions with respect to divorce and family cohesiveness.
- Climate.

- Effective strength of law enforcement agencies.
- Administrative and investigative emphases on law enforcement.
- Policies of other components of the criminal justice system (i.e., prosecutorial, judicial, correctional, and probation).
- Citizens' attitudes toward crime.
- Crime reporting practices of the citizenry.

Ranking agencies based solely on UCR data has serious implications. For example, if a user wants to measure the effectiveness of a law enforcement agency, these measurements are not available. As a substitute, a user might list UCR clearance rates, rank them by agency, and attempt to infer the effectiveness of individual law enforcement agencies. This inference is flawed because all the other measures of police effectiveness were ignored. The nature of the offenses that were cleared must be considered as those cleared may not have been the most serious, like murder or rape. The agency's clearances may or may not result in conviction, the ultimate goal. The agency may make many arrests for Part II offenses, like drug abuse violations, which demonstrate police activity but are not considered in the clearance rate. The agency's available resources are also critical to successful operation, so its rate of officers to population and budget should be considered. The UCR clearance rate was simply not designed to provide a complete assessment of law enforcement effectiveness. In order to obtain a valid picture of an agency's effectiveness, data users must consider an agency's emphases and resources; and its crime, clearance, and arrest rates; along with other appropriate factors.

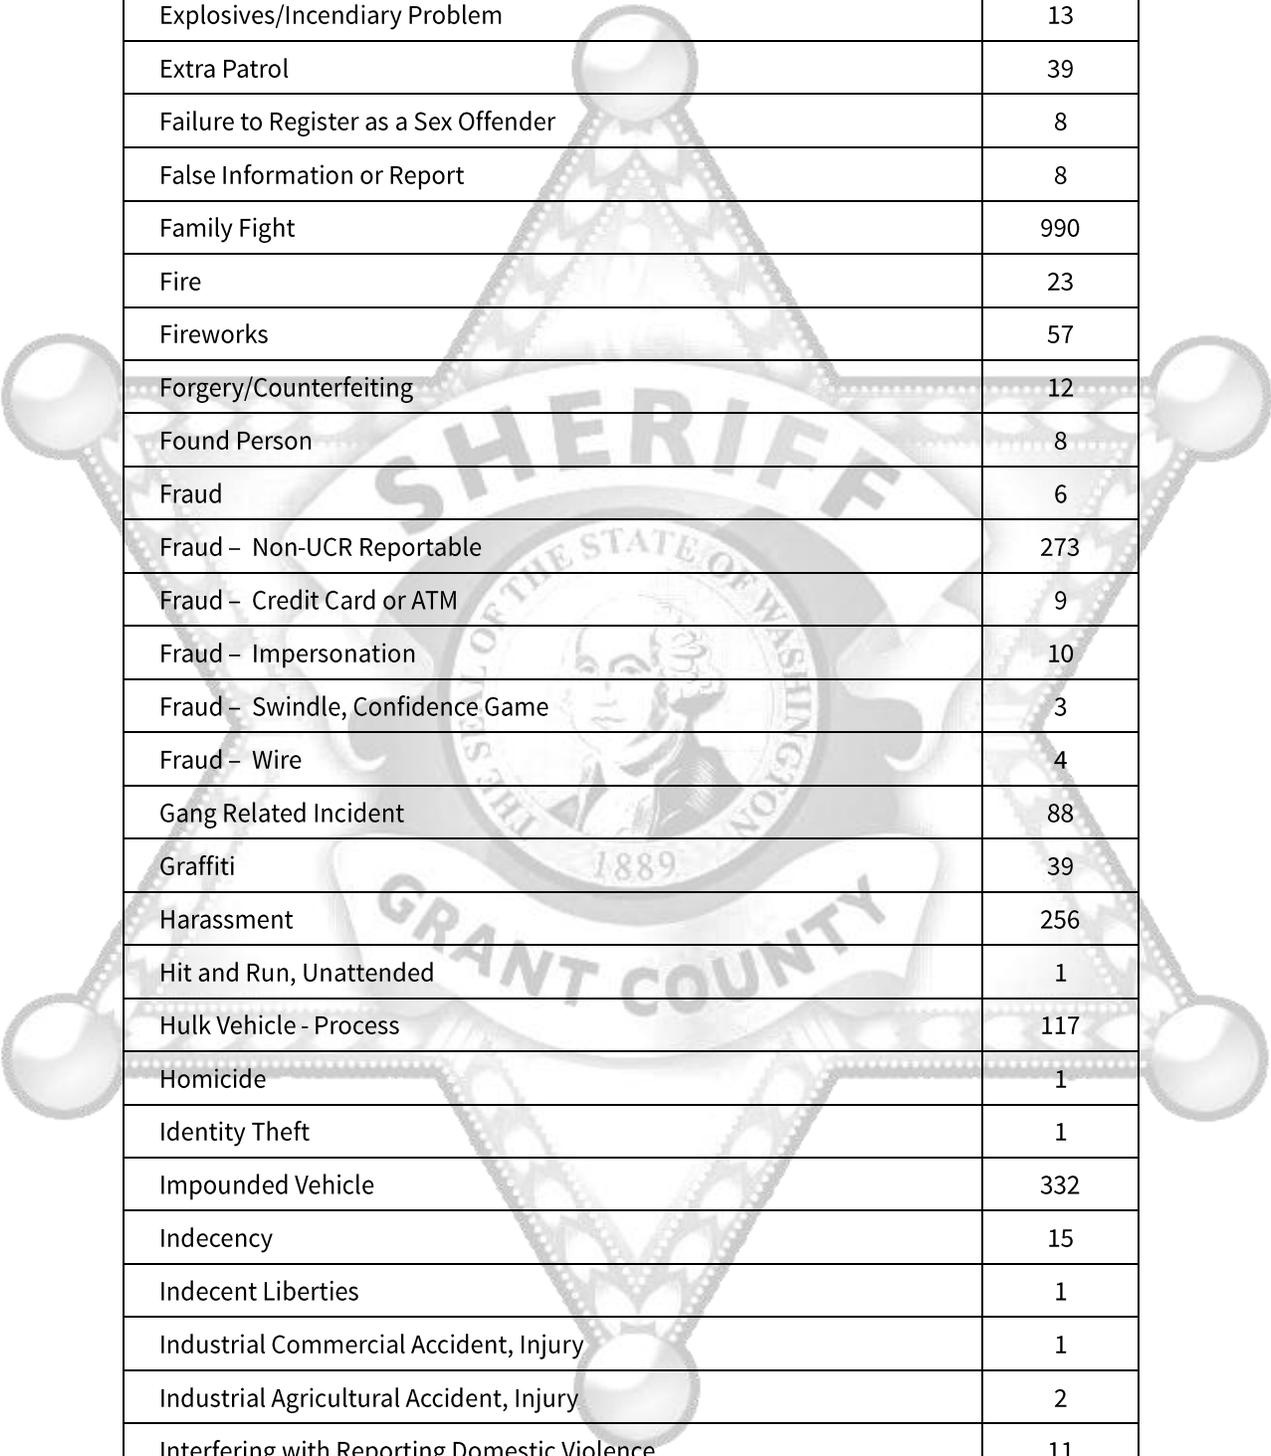

Because of concern regarding the proper use of UCR data, the FBI has the following policies:

- The FBI does not analyze, interpret, or publish crime statistics based solely on a single-dimension interagency ranking.
- The FBI does not provide agency-based crime statistics to data users in a ranked format.
- When providing/using agency-oriented statistics, the FBI cautions and, in fact, strongly discourages, data users against using rankings to evaluate locales or the effectiveness of their law enforcement agencies.
